HEADLINE: Pinnacle completes a comprehensive iPatch training program and becomes the first Systimax iPatch certified Premier VAR in Southern California

PINNACLE Communication Services of Glendale, California – completed an extensive training program for SYSTIMAX iPatch intelligent patching system and becomes the first SYSTIAMX iPatch certified Premier VAR in Southern California.

The iPatch System offers data center managers interactive, real time control over both copper and fiber connections. The results are more responsive network administration and better security. The system also cuts running costs by automating routine management tasks and assisting technicians in the completion work orders and service provisioning.

Intelligent patching system is widely used by large organizations as the backbone of their cabling infrastructure. iPatch is the highest rated Intelligent patching system

PINNACLE Communication Services a national Information Technology, Data Center design and Integration, Structured Cabling Consulting, Implementation and Support Services company headquartered in Glendale, California.

“This shows our commitment to our clients and Commscope/SYSTIMAX. We believe in the solid solutions that Commscope has offered over the years and iPatch is yet another extension of Commscope’s SYSTIAMX family of products which will allow us to better address the needs of our clients. We are committed to our clients’ success and we strongly feel that this will allow us provide a turnkey and a robust solution to our clients” says Avo Amirian, CEO of Pinnacle

“We are impressed with the features, robustness and powerfulness of the iPatch system. Its Simple, scalable and standards-compliant - hardware and architecture make the system easy to design, configure, administer and expand. It is relatively easy to configure it and it allows us to better support our clients.” Says Joe Licursi, President of Pinnacle.
