

Pinnacle's President/CEO was accepted on the Board of Directors of Junior Achievement with a unanimous vote

Los Angeles, CA – June, 2001 – Pinnacle Communication Services/Networking and Technology Group announced today, Avo Amirian, President/CEO Pinnacle was accepted on the Board of Directors of Junior Achievement with a unanimous vote.

Junior Achievement started in 1919 as a collection of small, after-school business clubs for students in Springfield, Massachusetts. Junior Achievement was founded by Horace Moses, Theodore Vail, and Sen. Murray Crane of Massachusetts.

Altogether, this non-profit organization reaches approximately 5.2 million students worldwide, with the help of contributors and more than 150,000 volunteers in the US. Through age-appropriate curricula, Junior Achievement programs begin at the elementary school level, teaching children how they can impact the world around them as individuals, workers and consumers. Junior Achievement programs continue through the middle and high school grades, preparing students for future economic and workforce issues they'll face, to ensure that every child in America has the fundamental understanding of the free enterprise system.
