HEADLINE: Pinnacle Communication Services Announces Appointment of Mathew Pomeroy as Director of Technology Services

Pinnacle Communication Services is proud to announce the appointment of Mathew Pomeroy as its new Director of Technology Services of its Audio, Video & Lighting (PAVL) division. Mathew is responsible for PAVL's operations, client relationship management, and leading the project management team. He most recently served as the division's executive project manager. "Mat has done an excellent job as executive project manager for PAVL over the past few years. We look forward to working with him in his new capacity," said Joe Licursi, President of Pinnacle.

Mat has unique capabilities to collaborate with end users, architects, designers, consultants and general contractors and create integrated Audio, Video and Lighting (AVL) systems for our clients to address their ever-changing business needs. Mat brings with him years of experience as project manager and a unique perspective as an LMU graduate.

He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in both economics and political science from Loyola Marymount University. He graduated from LMU's MBA Program with an emphasis in international business systems. "Mat brings business experience and leadership to the team and a deep sense of commitment to our clients," says Avo Amirian, CEO of Pinnacle.
